

► Pay day

It may come as a surprise, but being out of action doesn't have to mean being out of pocket.

Ask yourself the question – could you provide for your family if poor health took your income away? Could you pay the essential bills, let alone maintain the lifestyle you all enjoy?

Income protection will help take this worry away. It can pay you a monthly benefit if you're too ill to work, so you can continue to build a secure future for your family and keep you looking forward to pay day.
