

► Stuff happens

No matter how much you plan for the future, you never quite know what's around the corner.

Take your health for example; it's easy to take for granted when it's good, yet it can change suddenly when you least expect it.

The effects of ill health aren't all obvious. Your family often suffers the most, closely followed by your finances. But while physical and emotional recovery takes time and patience, you can make a quick, positive step towards safeguarding your family finances with an income protection plan.

Income protection will pay you a monthly benefit if you're too ill to work, so you can concentrate on getting better without worrying about money.
